

PRIVACY POLICY

Effective Date: June 16, 2026

1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy describes how Druware Software Designs ("we," "us," or "our") handles information in connection with your use of our products, services, and website (collectively, the "Services"). We are committed to protecting your privacy and being transparent about our data practices.

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully. By using our Products or Services, you agree to the practices described herein.

2. Information We Collect

2.1 No Personal Data Collected

We do not collect, store, or process any personally identifiable information ("PII") or private data from our users. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Names, email addresses, or contact details
- Financial or payment information
- Government-issued identification numbers
- Biometric data or health information
- Location data or device identifiers
- Browsing history or behavioral data

2.2 Non-Personal Technical Information

We may collect limited, anonymized technical data solely for the purpose of operating and improving our Services. This data cannot be used to identify any individual and may include aggregate usage statistics or anonymized error logs. This information is never linked to any specific user.

3. Data Sharing and Sale

3.1 Our Commitment

We will never sell, rent, trade, or otherwise transfer any data to third parties without your explicit prior consent. We believe your data belongs to you, and you retain full control over how it is used.

3.2 Data Sharing With User Consent

In the event that you choose to share data with third parties through our Services, we will:

- Clearly inform you of what data will be shared and with whom
- Obtain your explicit, informed consent before any sharing occurs
- Provide you with the ability to withdraw consent at any time
- Never make consent a condition of using our core Services

3.3 Exceptions

We may disclose information only in the following limited circumstances, and only to the extent required:

- To comply with applicable laws, regulations, or valid legal processes
- To protect the rights, property, or safety of Druware Software Designs, our users, or the public
- In connection with a merger, acquisition, or sale of assets — in which case we will notify users in advance

4. Data Security

Even though we do not collect personal data, we maintain appropriate technical and organizational security measures to protect our Services and any information that passes through them. We regularly review and update our security practices to address emerging threats.

5. Third-Party Services

Our Services may contain links to third-party websites or integrate with third-party tools. This Privacy Policy applies only to our Services. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of any third-party services you use, as we have no control over their data practices.

6. Children's Privacy

Our Services are not directed to individuals under the age of 13. We do not knowingly collect any information from children. If you believe a child has provided us with any information, please contact us immediately so we can address it.

7. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. When we do, we will revise the "Effective Date" at the top of this page and, where appropriate, notify you via our Services or by other means. We encourage you to review this policy periodically to stay informed about our practices.

8. Contact Us

If you have any questions, concerns, or requests regarding this Privacy Policy or our data practices, please contact us at:

Druware Software Designs

6065 Parkway North Dr. Suite 100

Cumming, GA 30040

US

Email: support@druware.com

This Privacy Policy is provided for informational purposes and does not constitute legal advice. You should consult with a qualified attorney to ensure compliance with applicable laws.